

The Traytors Downfall,

OR,

A brief relation of the downfall of that Phanatick crew who Trai-
terously Murdered the Late Kings Majesty of blessed Memory.
To the Tune of, Fa la la, &c.

Charles the first was a noble King,
with a fa la la la lero,
His fame throughout the world do ring,
with a fa, &c.

But those that did presume so high,
To murder our good Kings Majesty,
How may these Rebels howl and cry,
with a fa la la lero.

He was a Prince of courage stout,
with a fa, &c.

Although his glass was soon run out,
with a fa, &c.

But behind him he hath left a Noble stock
May give a Traytor a handsome knock,
For making a King to submit to the block,
with a fa, &c.

The blood that he lost as I suppose,
with a fa, &c.

Caused fire to rise in Oliver's Pose,
with a fa, &c.

His rousing Pose did bear such away,
It cast such a heat in shining ray,
That England scarce knew the night from
with a fa, &c. (day

Oliver was of Huntington,
with a fa, &c.

Born he was a Brewers son,
with a fa, &c.

He soon forsook his dray and flings, (thing
And counted a Brewers house a pitifull
When he came to the stately throne of a
with a fa, &c. King:

Oliver had a heart of gall,
with a fa, &c.

For to murder his Prince at white-Hall,
with a fa, &c.

He swore who ever was over the main,
Whether a French King or a Spain,
Yet in England no King should remain,
with a fa, &c.

The Traytors Downfall,

OR,

A brief relation of the downfall of that Phanatick crew who Trai-
terously Murdered the Late Kings Majesty of blessed Memory.
To the Tune of, Fa la la, &c.

Charles the first was a noble King,
with a fa la la la lero,
His fame throughout the world did ring,
with a fa, &c.

But those that did presume so high,
To murder our good Kings Majesty,
How may these Rebels howl and cry,
with a fa la la lero.

He was a Prince of courage stout,
with a fa, &c.

Although his glass was soon run out,
with a fa, &c.

But behind him he hath left a Noble stock
May give a Traytor a handsome knock,
For making a King to submit to the block,
with a fa, &c.

The blood that he lost as I suppose,
with a fa, &c.

Caused fire to rise in Oliver's Pose,
with a fa, &c.

His rousing Pose did bear such away,
It cast such a heat in shining ray,
That England scarce knew the night from
with a fa, &c. (day

Oliver was of Huntington,
with a fa, &c.

Born he was a Brewers son,
with a fa, &c.

He soon forsook his dray and flings, (thing
And counted a Brewers house a pitifull
When he came to the stately throne of a
with a fa, &c. King:

Oliver had a heart of gall,
with a fa, &c.

For to murder his Prince at white-Hall,
with a fa, &c.

He swore who ever was over the main,
Whether a French King or a Spain,
Yet in England no King should remain,
with a fa, &c.

The second part to the same Tune.

Duke Humphery was the first Protector
with a fa, &c.
Henry the first the next Protector,
with a fa, &c.
Then thirdly Oliver he took place.
But Lucifer soon removed his grace,
When he set up young Dick the fool of his race,
with a fa, &c.

So sooner was Dick got up to the Throne,
with a fa, &c.
But he considered tis was none of his own,
with a fa, &c.
And staring this way and that way about :
Desiring to be rebobbed a doubt.
Then in came Lambert and turned him out
with a fa, &c.

Fleetwood desirous of the place,
with a fa, &c.
Sent forth Lambert the Scot to face,
with a fa, &c.
And being in the strength of his desire,
When he did think poor Lockey to bier,
His men forsooke him and left him in the mier.
with a fa, &c.

Thus you may see how some do rise,
with a fa, &c.
With an intent to surmount the Skies
with a fa, &c.
But when they are up they shall have a fall,
Witness Fleetwood blind Hewson, and all,
The ragged rout of a Coblers Hall,
with a fa, &c.

We have cleared white-Hall of Lobsters and with a fa, &c. (Glee, Turned Rump and Rindies out of the house with a fa, &c. (main We have brought in Charles from over the Make wars with France & peace with Spain.
Now we shall get money and trading again
with a fa, &c.

Citizens look to your selves I say,
with a fa, &c.
Let no Coblers preach and pray :
with a fa, &c. (ther
Tom Coker is down the Lord knows whil
Fleetwood and he I hope are together,
Now we have brought in the King and weel with a fa, (have faire weather

Blind Hewson is not of our kind,
with a fa, &c.
To run a day and leave his men behind,
with a fa,
But I wish I could find him by the sent,
There's neither that law nor the camp parliament Should save him from death to give us cons with a fa la la la lalero. (tent

A list of the names of those Traytors that were hanged; drawn, and quartered for murdering our Sovereign of blessed memory, Charles the first.

Thomas Harrison, John Carew, Tho. Scot, Gregory
Clement, John Jones, Adrian Scroope, Hugh Peters, John Cook, Col. Axel, Col. Hacker.